PREFACE.

This volume has been prepared in accordance with the provisions of Section 6 (1) of the Census Act (Northern Ireland), 1936, from the census returns made as at midnight of the 28th February—1st March, 1937. The statistics contained herein supersede those in the Preliminary Report published in July, 1937, and may be regarded as final.

The census which was taken in 1937 was a special one in the sense that it was limited in scope and was taken during the interval between normal census years, thus bridging the gap between the 1926 census and the next full census. Certain questions usually found on census schedules, such as those regarding occupation and industry, were not asked, but a new question as to usual residence was included for the first time.

The 1937 census publications will consist of:—

1. SEVEN COUNTY VOLUMES, each similar in design and scope. The smallest area for which statistics are given in the county volumes is the district electoral division, but statistics, in respect of townlands similar to those given in table 4 have been prepared in the Census Office and are available for reference upon application to the Registrar General.
2. GENERAL REPORT for the whole country, covering in more detail the statistics shown in the county volumes, and in addition containing tables on fertility.
3. SUPPLEMENT TO 1926 TOPOGRAPHICAL INDEX. This supplement will be designed for use in conjunction with the 1926 topographical index in order to facilitate reference to the statistics given in the 1937 census reports. It will cover the topographical changes during the intercensal period.

The net prices for the 1937 census publications will be 2s. 6d. for each county volume, 5s. 0d. for the general report, and 1s. 0d. for the topographical index supplement.

The remaining county volumes will be published at intervals as completed during the next six months, and the other two volumes as soon as possible after that period. These publications will be obtainable directly from the Superintendent, H.M. Stationery Office, 80 Chichester Street, Belfast, or through any bookseller.

The 1926 census publications are similar in arrangement to the 1937 series (see advertisement on back of cover), but they incorporate additional tables on occupations, industries, education, orphanhood, dependent children, infirmities, and nationality. In addition the 1926 county volumes contain population and housing figures for each townland and village.

The Registrar General is empowered by Section 6 (2) of the Census Act (Northern Ireland), 1936, to prepare and supply from the census returns, statistics other than those published in the census reports at the request and cost of any local authority or person. Any special demands for statistics more detailed than those published (either as regards subject matter or area) can thus, as far as office records permit, be satisfied. Requests for special compilation of census statistics should be addressed to the Registrar General, who will be pleased to advise and furnish an estimate of cost.

EXPLANATORY NOTES AND DEFINITIONS OF TERMS USED IN THIS VOLUME.

AREA.

The acreages given are as measured by the Ordnance Survey of 1930 (foreshore being excluded), and relate to the several administrative areas as constituted at the date of the 1937 census. The acreage covered by tidal water is not included in the body of Tables 4 and 6, but is given in footnotes thereto.

POPULATION.

The population comprises all persons, including Forces of the Crown, enumerated as at midnight of Sunday, 28th February—1st March, 1937.

The population assigned to each area comprises all persons who were actually present within it, whether as residents or visitors, persons on board ship in port being included in the area adjacent to the port.

In general these definitions apply to the population figures for previous census enumerations which have been included in some of the tables.

ADMINISTRATIVE DIVISIONS.

The County Borough is divided into fifteen wards, which form units for the purpose of borough council elections, and each ward is coterminous with the district electoral division of the same name (see table 4). The district electoral division forms the unit for the purpose of poor law elections.

The Poor Law Union of Belfast consists of the County Borough, Belfast and Castlereagh Rural Districts and Holywood Urban District. The part of the Poor Law Union within the County Borough is divided into sixteen medical dispensary districts. Poor law unions and medical dispensary districts are also, respectively, superintendent registrars' and registrars' districts for the registration of marriages, births, and deaths.

The County Borough is divided into sixteen parliamentary constituencies for elections to the Northern Ireland Parliament, and into four constituencies for elections to the United Kingdom Parliament (see table 12).

There are no county electoral divisions in the County Borough. (County electoral divisions are the areas into which counties are divided for the purpose of county council elections).

The Belfast Education Area is coterminous with the County Borough.

The only change made in the boundaries of administrative divisions of the County Borough during the last intercensal period was that caused by the creation by the House of Commons (Method of Voting and Redistribution of Seats) Act (Northern Ireland), 1929, of sixteen parliamentary constituencies for the purpose of elections to the Parliament of Northern Ireland.

HOUSES.

1. The term "House" denotes
 - (a) each structure containing dwelling accommodation (except institutions) which stands alone or is separated from another by a vertical parting wall;
 - (b) each institution (viz., hospital, sanatorium, nursing home, infirmary, workhouse, asylum, religious or charitable community, residential school, barracks or other premises under Naval, Military, Air Force, or Police discipline, prison or other place of detention), regardless of the number of buildings within its precincts;
 - (c) each vessel, caravan, tent, or other movable dwelling.

2. The term "Private House" denotes all "Houses" other than institutions, hotels, boarding houses, premises occupied by caretakers, vessels, movable dwellings, and barns, stables, and out-houses occupied on census night. The term includes premises comprising a shop and dwelling, unless occupied by a caretaker.

3. The terms "Boarding House" and "Lodging House" cover habitations described as such, and any private house containing three or more boarders or lodgers.

4. The term "Inhabited" denotes actual residence of a person or persons on census night. "Uninhabited" houses, therefore, include those temporarily vacant through the absence of the usual occupiers as well as those without tenants. Enumerators were instructed to omit from their enumeration empty houses in such an advanced state of decay that there was little likelihood that they would again be made fit for habitation.

ROOMS.

1. The rooms enumerated are the usual living rooms, including bedrooms and kitchens, but excluding sculleries (i.e., rooms used only for washing, cleaning, or cooking), pantries, cloakrooms, landings, closets or bathrooms, or any warehouse, office or shop rooms.

2. For the purpose of classifying families by rooms occupied (Table 10), shared-room occupations—i.e., those in which two or more families have rooms in common—have been rounded up to the next integral number of rooms. Thus, three families occupying $1\frac{1}{3}$, $2\frac{1}{3}$, and $2\frac{1}{3}$ rooms in a 6-roomed house would be shown as occupying 2, 3, and 3 rooms respectively. The extent of the rounding-up process may be ascertained in a general way by reference to Table 9, in which the actual number of rooms is given. In cases of 1 room occupations, all persons living therein, whether related or not, have been enumerated as one census family.

FAMILIES.

The term "Family" denotes

- (a) The inhabitants of each institution (see 1 (b) of "Houses" definition), hotel, boarding-house, lodging-house, or ship.
- (b) Each person or group of persons occupying separately the whole, or part of, any dwelling other than as described at (a).

"Private Family" means a family enumerated in a "Private House" (see 2 of "Houses" definition).

It should be specially noted that a family or private family for census purposes includes any group of persons, whether related or not, who live together in separate house or room accommodation.

RATEABLE VALUATION.

The figures shown are those for service of the year ended 31st March, 1937, and have been supplied by the Commissioner of Valuation. Rateable Hereditaments include lands, buildings, tolls, railways, tramways, canals, fisheries, turbaries, mines, quarries, waterworks, telegraphs, telephones and electricity, gas and water mains.

Subject to the provisions of the Local Government (Rating and Finance) Act (Northern Ireland), 1929, agricultural land and agricultural buildings are completely derated and industrial hereditaments and freight-transport hereditaments are partially derated, the consequent deficiency in the yield of rates being made good by contributions from the Government.

The figures in Table 4 are the totals of the valuations of the rateable hereditaments in the various areas before reduction on account of derating, but exclude in certain cases the valuations of electricity, gas and water mains, telegraphs, telephones, fisheries, waterworks and tramways. The total of such excluded valuations for the county is given in a footnote to the table.

The total for the County Borough of rateable valuations after reduction on account of derating is given on page xi.

USUAL RESIDENCE.

The persons who have been regarded as having their usual residence in the area of enumeration (i.e., the County Borough) include :—

- (1) Those enumerated in their own houses.
- (2) Persons having settled residence in private lodgings.
- (3) Resident domestic servants.
- (4) Scholars, students, etc., living during term time in residential schools, etc.
- (5) Inmates of institutions when the nature of the institution suggested permanent residence.
- (6) Crews of vessels if usually living on shipboard.
- (7) Persons whose usual residence, although not in the building in which enumerated, is still within the area of enumeration.

All other persons have been treated as usually resident in urban and rural areas other than the area of enumeration, or in countries outside Northern Ireland, as stated on the census schedule.

BIRTHPLACES.

Persons whose birthplaces were not stated on the census schedule were assumed to have been born in the county in which enumerated, except in cases of persons with foreign names, and persons stated to be visitors to the household. In these cases further enquiries were made.

RELIGIONS.

The classification of religions includes a separate heading for each religion, the adherents of which number 10 or more (see Table 20). The heading "Presbyterian" includes those who call themselves by this name without qualification, together with those who describe themselves as members of the Church of Scotland. Other Presbyterian denominations are shown at the foot of Table 20. Members of the Church of England and the Episcopal Church of Scotland have been included under the heading "Church of Ireland." The latter group includes all persons returned as "Church" or "Episcopalian."

NUMBERING OF TABLES.

Roman numerals are used in this volume for the tables in Part I and Arabic numerals for the tables in Part II.

CONVENTION AS TO DOTS (.) AND DASHES (—).

Throughout this volume dots (.) are used in tabular matter to indicate "none," and dashes (—) are used to indicate that information cannot or is not intended to be given.

CORRECTION OF CENSUS DATA.

Every effort has been made to eliminate, as far as practicable, errors and inaccuracies from the census data. The process of correction began with the enumerators, who received full instructions as to the action to be taken in cases of error or omission, and it was continued by a system of check and further enquiry where necessary applied at each stage of the office work. The process was completed by an intensive scrutiny and inter-comparison of the tabulation sheets. This scrutiny and comparison revealed a certain number of incongruities, which, when material, were investigated and corrected in the light of the facts disclosed. In a few cases trifling errors were adjusted arbitrarily.

PART I.

STATISTICAL NOTES.

NOTES.—(1) The definitions, etc., contained in the preceding section apply equally to these notes and to the tables in Part II.

(2) The descriptions of areas used in this volume relate to the conditions which existed at the census date. In particular, the term Irish Free State has been employed in the tables, since the name Eire did not come into operation for that area until the 29th December, 1937.

AREA.

The area of the County Borough of Belfast, which in 1851 was roughly $2\frac{1}{2}$ square miles, now comprises (as a result of boundary extensions in 1853 and 1896) about 23 square miles, exclusive of tidal water. It will be seen from Table I (Part II) that some $13\frac{1}{2}$ square miles are occupied by buildings, roads, etc., and more than 9 square miles are under crops and pasture.

POPULATION.

The total population enumerated in the County Borough was 438,086. This figure is more than twice the number enumerated in 1881 and more than six times the number enumerated in 1841. The increase of 22,935 in the population during the past eleven years is equivalent to an increase of 0.5 per cent. per annum, this increase being only slightly higher than the average annual increase of the preceding intercensal period, which was the lowest recorded since 1851.

TABLE I.

*Intercensal Period	Population at beginning of Period	Births Registered	Deaths Registered	Excess of Births over Deaths	Intercensal variation in Population	Net movement outwards from the Co. Boro. Col. (5) — Col. (6)
(1)	(2)	(3)	(4)	(5)	(6)	(7)
1901—1911 (10 years)	349,180	112,072	74,036	38,036	+37,767	269
1911—1926 (15 years)	386,947	158,671	102,094	56,577	+28,204	†28,373
1926—1937 (11 years)	415,151	100,837	66,005	34,832	+22,935	11,897

*Owing to the extension of the County Borough boundary in 1896, it is not possible to show figures in respect of the area which now constitutes the County Borough for periods prior to 1901.

† Including the deaths of non-civilians of the County Borough which occurred outside Northern Ireland.

Although comparable figures of natural increase due to the excess of births over deaths, in respect of the County Borough as now constituted, are not available for periods prior to 1901, it is evident that during the period 1821 to 1901 the increase in population due to excess of births over deaths was considerably augmented by net movement into the city. For the period 1901-1911 a small net movement in the opposite direction was recorded, and during the last twenty-six years the net movement has continued in an outward direction, the dimensions of this movement being such as to offset materially the increase in population which would otherwise have been experienced from the excess of births over deaths. It will be seen from Table 3 that during the period 1926-1937 the loss by migration consisted mainly of males. The present trend of population in Belfast and in the urban and rural districts within easy reach of Belfast indicates an increasing tendency for city workers to live either in the suburbs or country, or at the seaside.

Wards.—Eight of the fifteen wards of Belfast show increases of population during the past eleven years, and seven show decreases. The more remarkable increases have taken place in Clifton and St. Anne's Wards, the population of each of these wards having increased by about 35 per cent. since 1926. The greatest decreases have occurred in the four wards having the four highest numbers of persons per acre. In order of rate of decrease they are St. George's (with the highest rate of decrease, viz., 16.9 per cent.), Dock, Smithfield, and Court Wards. No marked decreases of population were apparent in any of these wards in the intercensal periods prior to the 1926 census, except in the case of Smithfield Ward, the population of which decreased by about 12 per cent. during the period 1901-1911.

Table 4 provides more detailed information regarding the wards and includes figures of rateable valuation. The rateable valuation of the County Borough in 1937 was £2,921,028 before reduction on account of derating, and £2,690,552 after reduction on account of derating. These figures compare with a rateable valuation of £1,793,563 in 1926, but it is to be noted that during the intercensal period a derating scheme was introduced and a general revaluation took place.

Dispensary Districts.—The dispensary districts of Belfast vary in size considerably, and their boundaries differ from the ward boundaries in all cases, except in that of District No. 11 which is coterminous with Ormeau Ward. Of the sixteen dispensary districts, eight show increases of population during the past eleven years, and eight show decreases. The most substantial increases occurred in Districts Nos. 8, 9, and 13, and the greatest decreases in Districts Nos. 3, 15, and 16. The increase in the population of Belfast during the period 1911-1926 was shared more or less equally by all districts, but the increase in the past eleven years is the net result of increases in one half of the dispensary districts partly offset by substantial decreases in the other half. More detailed information regarding dispensary districts is given in table 6.

Parliamentary Constituencies.—A complete record of the parliamentary constituencies of Belfast for elections to both the United Kingdom and Northern Ireland Parliaments is set out in table 12. The number of electors as shown therein is in accordance with the register which came into force on the 15th

December, 1937. This register was compiled on the basis of the qualifying period of six months ending on 15th July, 1937, and therefore approximates in point of time to the census date.

In general a person is entitled to be registered as a Northern Ireland parliamentary elector if he or she is twenty-one or more years of age, and

- (a) has the requisite residence qualification of six months and (unless a native of Northern Ireland) has been resident in the United Kingdom for seven years prior to the qualifying date ; or
- (b) has occupied for six months prior to the qualifying date business premises of at least £10 valuation ; or
- (c) is the wife or husband of a person entitled to be registered in respect of a business premises qualification.

Graduates of full age form the electorate of the University constituency.

The qualifications for voters at elections for the return of members to serve in the Parliament at Westminster are identical with those set out above, except that the overriding provision as to residence in the United Kingdom does not apply.

In considering the number of electors as shown on the register it should be noted that a person's name may appear on the register once only on a residence qualification, but any number of times on a business premises qualification, provided the residence and business premises are all situated in different constituencies. Thus a person having a business premises vote in each of two constituencies for Northern Ireland elections would only have one business premises vote for United Kingdom elections if both business premises were situated in the same United Kingdom constituency.

TABLE IV.

Parliamentary Constituencies for United Kingdom Elections	Population aged 21 and over (Persons)	Parliamentary Electors with Residence Qualifications only, (1937 Register) (Persons)	Electors with Residence Qualifications per cent. of Population aged 21 and over (Persons)

South Belfast ..	64,883	63,183	97.4
West Belfast ..	75,890	74,385	98.0

Table IV shows the numbers of electors for the United Kingdom Parliament having residence qualifications only as a proportion of the total population aged twenty-one years and over as enumerated at the census.

Education Area.—The Belfast County Borough Council is the education authority for the entire area under its control, and all figures given in this volume for the County Borough apply equally to the Belfast Education Area.

HOUSING—BUILDINGS, ROOMS, FAMILIES, Etc.

Houses.—The houses dealt with in tables V and VI include all buildings, including institutions, etc., which are normally used for dwelling purposes, and, since nearly 99 per cent. of these houses contain private dwellings, the comparisons afforded by the tables can be regarded as being broadly applicable to housing of private census families.

*The figures given are for the Borough as constituted at the date of each Census. The boundary of the Borough was extended in 1853 and again in 1896.

The intercensal increase of 21,868 houses is equivalent to an increase of nearly 26 per cent., as compared with an increase in population over the eleven years of $5\frac{1}{2}$ per cent.

The number of uninhabited houses has increased materially since 1926, but, compared with the numbers recorded at previous censuses, the 1937 figure is not abnormally high.

Persons per Inhabited House and Persons per Census Family.—As might have been expected, the average number of persons per house, which has been steadily declining from 1851, shows a further and marked fall from 1926 to 1937. The size of the census family, which first showed a tendency to decrease in 1926, has also further decreased, and now stands at a little over four persons per family. As compared with the $5\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. increase in the population since 1926, the number of census families has increased by $17\frac{1}{2}$ per cent.

Ratios for persons per house, persons per family, and persons per room in relation to inhabited private houses only, can readily be calculated for each ward from tables 8 and 10. A comparison of these ratios for 1926 and 1937 in respect of the County Borough is as follows:—

	1926	1937
Persons per Inhabited Private House ..	4.84	4.17
Persons per Private Family ..	4.45	4.02
Persons per Room in Private Houses ..	1.01	0.88

Housing in Wards.—Tables 4, 8, 9, and 10 contain detailed 1937 housing and accommodation figures for the wards of the County Borough, and table VI shows the changes in the numbers of houses in each ward during the past eleven years.

Of the approximately 22,000 additional houses in Belfast, nearly 5,000 are in Clifton Ward, and over 2,000 are in each of Duncairn, Ormeau, Pottinger, St. Anne's and Victoria Wards. Small decreases are recorded for Dock, St. George's, and Smithfield Wards.

Table VII has been prepared from tables 9 and 10 and shows broadly the distribution, by size, of private houses and the degree of subletting in the County Borough. It also shows the distribution of private families according to the number of rooms occupied by them. Similar particulars in regard to each ward can readily be obtained from tables 9 and 10.

For Belfast as a whole substantial increases are recorded in the proportion of 4 and 5 roomed houses and in the proportion of families in dwelling accommodation containing the same number of rooms.

In 1926 the families occupying 1 to 3 rooms were twice as numerous as the number of 1 to 3 roomed houses. This disparity is now very much less, but even so one family out of every three occupying accommodation of these dimensions cannot enjoy the family privacy afforded by a structurally separate dwelling. This in itself, however, does not necessarily indicate a shortage of houses of this size, since, for example, 2,500 of the families occupying 1 to 3 rooms each consists of a single person. In these cases one or more members of the family may have been absent on census night, although in the majority of the cases the single individual is in all probability a person who normally lives alone, and who may consider himself or herself more suitably accommodated in rooms than in occupying a whole house.

The numbers of 4 and 5 roomed houses and families occupying 4 and 5 rooms show increases in nearly every ward. The largest proportions of small houses of 1 to 3 rooms are still to be found in Court, Smithfield, St. George's, Dock, and Woodvale Wards.

The proportion of private houses sublet in 1937 was 2.7 per cent., which rate is only a little over one-third of the rate for 1926. The wards in which subletting is most prevalent are Smithfield, Court, Dock, and Falls.

The 26 per cent. increase in the number of houses as compared with the 5½ per cent. increase in population has to a large extent relieved the housing shortage which undoubtedly existed in 1926. Evidence of this relief is to be seen in the material reduction in subletting, in the reduction in the number of persons per room, and in the 17½ per cent. increase in the number of families separately accommodated, as against an increase of roughly 12 per cent. in the number of married couples. In addition, there has been also a large decrease in the boarding house population in Belfast as will be seen in the later paragraph relating to institutions, etc.

Overcrowding.—In order to determine the measure of accommodation essential if overcrowding is to be avoided, a knowledge of many factors such as size of family, number, ages, and sex of children, and number and size of rooms is necessary. Moreover, it is a matter of individual judgment as to what weight should be given to each factor. In dealing with the accommodation particulars recorded at the census, the size of the census family has been expressed by the number of persons, without regard to sex or age, and the rooms comprising the accommodation have been limited to the usual living rooms. The resulting rates of persons per room have been regarded as an approximate measure of density of room accommodation, and a rate of over 2 persons per room has been assumed to indicate overcrowding.

Tables VIII and IX have been prepared from table 10. The first of these tables shows a marked general improvement in accommodation in the County Borough, and table IX shows that every ward shares in this improvement. The actual amount of overcrowding in the various wards is shown by the population numbers and the relative degree of overcrowding is indicated by the density rates, in the category of "over 2 persons per room"

The overcrowding in one room tenements shows a remarkable improvement since 1926, the number of families of two or more persons occupying a single room having fallen from 2,037 to 760. The number of families living at a density of 6 or more persons in a single room has fallen from 120 to 43.

Housing in Dispensary Districts.—In comparing the housing and accommodation rates in table X, it should be noted that these rates apply to dispensary districts which vary in size considerably. The five highest "persons per private house" and "persons per room" rates are those for Districts Nos. 1, 5, 9, 15, and 16, which are situated in the central and western parts of the city.

INSTITUTIONS, Etc.

The population in each of the types of inhabited buildings, etc., other than private houses is shown for each ward in table 11, together with the numbers of inmates of institutions. Table XI gives for the County Borough these particulars in comparison with the corresponding 1926 figures.

The most striking feature disclosed by table XI is the fall by 50 per cent. in the number of hotels and boarding houses and their occupants. This fall is distributed fairly evenly over the wards, and is no doubt, to a large extent, due to the considerable number of small houses built since 1926, which must have absorbed a great many people hitherto living in boarding houses as well as persons who previously occupied portions of houses.

The number of hospitals and nursing homes and their inmates have both increased by roughly one third, the largest increase being recorded for Windsor Ward.

USUAL RESIDENCE.

The new enquiry at this census as to the "usual residence" of each individual irrespective of the address at which he or she was enumerated, has disclosed that less than 1 per cent. of the enumerated population of Belfast was normally resident elsewhere than in the County Borough, and about one half of these resided outside Northern Ireland. Detailed figures are contained in table 13. This table shows the effect of an adjustment of the Belfast enumerated population for usual residence as between the County Borough and other urban and rural areas in Northern Ireland. While this adjustment is comparatively insignificant, it may be noted that it would probably have been larger if the Census had been taken some months later. Moreover, the 1937 population figures adjusted for usual residence as at the end of February will provide better comparisons with population figures similarly adjusted at a future census (which may be taken at some other time of the year) than simple comparisons of populations as enumerated. In the absence of particulars of persons not enumerated in Northern Ireland but usually resident in Belfast, it is not possible to make an adjustment for usual residence as between the County Borough and places outside Northern Ireland. If, however, a census enumeration were carried out on the same date throughout the British Isles it could be made to provide most of the particulars required to give effect to such an adjustment.

SEX, AGE, AND MARITAL CONDITION.

Table 14 shows the population of the County Borough by single ages and quinquennial age groups for each sex and marital condition, and for convenience of reference corresponding 1926 figures, limited to certain age groups, are shown in table XII.

If tables XIII and XIV, which have been prepared from tables XII and 14, are examined together, it will be seen that the smallness of the increase in the number of single persons is due in part to the reduction in the number of children under five years of age, and in part to the relatively high rate of increase in the number of married persons.

The tendency for the proportion of the population at the older ages to increase and the proportion at the young ages to decrease, which was evident in 1926, still continues, and the average age of the population has accordingly risen from 26.7 years in 1911 to 28.5 years in 1926, and 31.7 years in 1937. The tendency just referred to is illustrated in the following graph, which shows the growth, since 1871, of the population of Belfast as constituted at the date of each Census, in five main groups of ages.

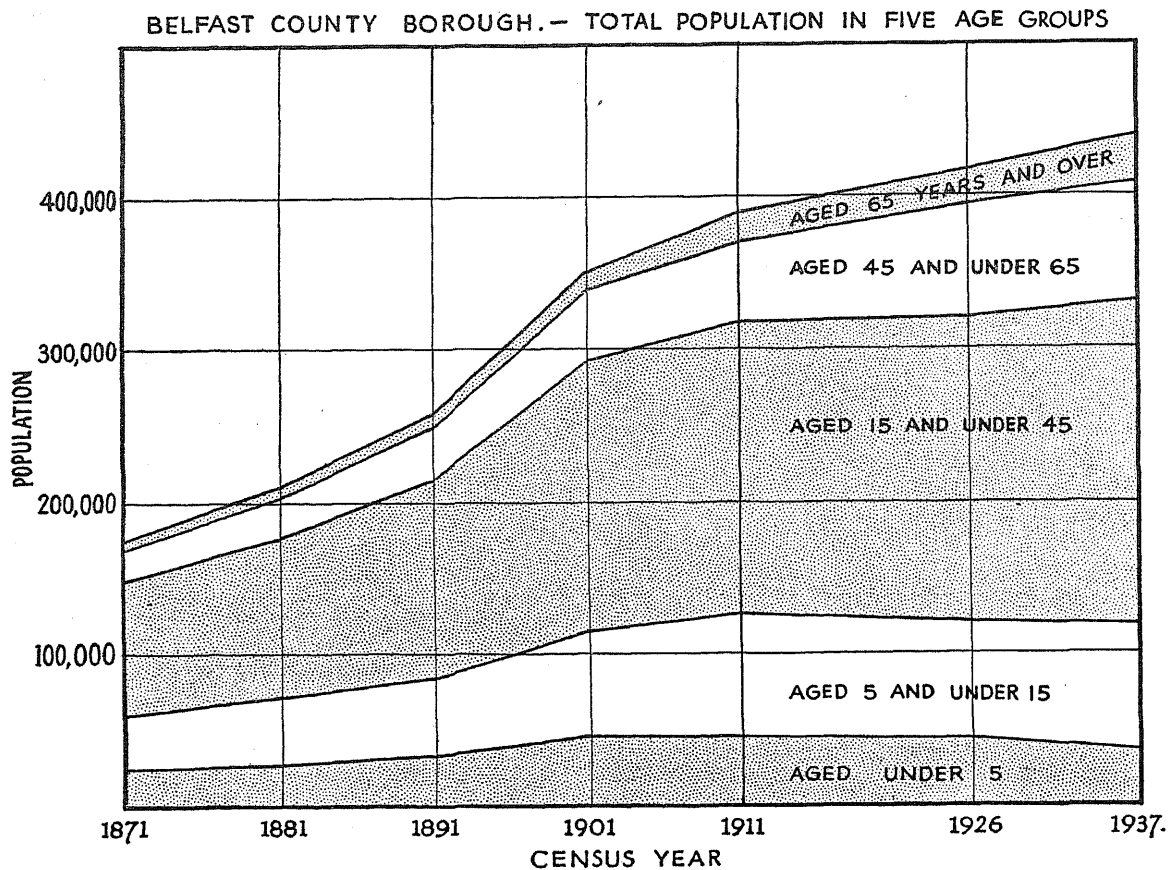

Table 16 shows the population of each ward by sex, marital condition and quinquennial groups of age. This table has been prepared on lines similar to those adopted in England and Wales, and will facilitate the study of questions of fertility.

Table 17 shows for Belfast as a whole and also for each ward, the population under age twenty-one by sex and individual ages. The numbers are also divided between Roman Catholic and other denominations. A similar division by religions is particularly evident among children at the school ages, during which there is almost complete separation between the two groups. This separation is one of a number of social differences between Roman Catholics and others, and these differences have a considerable statistical significance. For this reason, therefore, in this and certain of the following tables separate figures for Roman Catholics and others have been shown.

TABLE XV.

Table XV has been prepared from table 17, and it will be seen that the percentage of Roman Catholics is greatest in the youngest age group and diminishes as the age increases. This suggested the possibility of a higher fertility rate among Roman Catholics, and in order to pursue this question table XVI was prepared. From this table it is apparent that the ratio of all children under 3 years of age to the number of married women under 45 is generally highest in the wards having the highest proportion of Roman Catholic population. While this feature does not obtain in some of the wards, possibly on account of other factors being present, it is significant that the six wards with a proportion of Roman Catholic population above the average for the County Borough are also the six wards with the highest ratio of young children to married women.

Table XVII has also been prepared from table 17 and shows for each ward the numbers of children at ages 5 and under 15 years, i.e., approximate school ages, by Roman Catholic and other denominations. Falls Ward has both the largest number and the highest percentage of Roman Catholic children.

BIRTHPLACES.

Table 18 shows, by sex, the numbers of persons born in each of the counties of Northern Ireland, other countries in the British Isles, overseas dominions, colonies, etc., foreign countries, and at sea. Of the total population of Belfast, 69 per cent. were born in the County Borough, 13 per cent. in the adjacent counties of Antrim and Down, 7 per cent. in the other four counties of Northern Ireland, and $4\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. in the Irish Free State. Only 0.8 per cent. were born outside the British Isles, and nearly one half of these were born in British dominions and colonies. Persons born in foreign countries numbered 1,834, and 27 persons were born at sea.

(a) Persons born in the Isle of Man and the Channel Islands have been included under this heading. In 1937 they numbered 75 persons born in the Isle of Man and 37 in the Channel Islands.

(b) All figures relate to the Borough as constituted at the date of each Census. The Borough boundary was extended in 1896.

From table XVIII it will be seen that since 1861 there have been no marked variations in the proportions of the population born in the several parts of the British Isles and abroad. The only tendencies now discernible are for the proportions born in the Irish Free State and Great Britain to fall and the proportions born in Northern Ireland and abroad to rise.

Table 19 deals with the numbers of persons in each ward born outside Northern Ireland, and shows them under Roman Catholic and other denominations, by sex, and duration of residence in Northern Ireland. The irregularities in the run of the figures as between males and females in some cases are no doubt due to circumstances peculiar to particular districts. Districts with a high proportion of domestic servants, and those which include military barracks, etc., for example, might be expected to show some exceptional features.

Table XIX has been prepared from table 19 and shows under Roman Catholic and other denominations the numbers of persons who have come from other countries to reside in Belfast, and were still there on census day. It will be seen that the ratio of such persons to the total population of the same denomination for all periods of residence compares closely as between Roman Catholics and persons of other denominations. It may perhaps be inferred from this that in recent years there has been no disproportionate influx of persons, either of Roman Catholic or other denominations, from other countries into Belfast, unless any such influx has been offset by a corresponding movement outwards from the County Borough.

RELIGIONS.

Table 20 shows the population by sex and religion in four main groups for each ward, and by sex and under forty-one different descriptions for Belfast as a whole. The highest proportions of Roman Catholics are to be found in Falls and Smithfield Wards, and generally the excess of females over males is relatively greatest among Roman Catholics.

*All figures relate to the Borough as constituted at the date of each Census. The Borough Boundary was extended in 1896.

†Including Church of England and Episcopal Church of Scotland, numbering 5,801 and 12, respectively, in 1937.

From table XX it will be seen that increased numbers have been recorded under each of the five main classifications used for the purpose of this table. The proportion of the total population has, however, fallen considerably in the case of Presbyterians, and for the first time since 1861 both the number and the percentage of Church of Ireland adherents exceed the number and percentage of Presbyterians.

TABLE 2.—Population, 1821—1937.

County Borough.

DEFINITIONS—1. The term "Population" is defined on page vi. The figures for 1821 and 1831 exclude members of H.M. Forces.

2. The figures given for 1821 relate to the "Town" of Belfast; those for 1831 to the "Town and Suburbs"; and those for subsequent years to the area of the Borough or County Borough as constituted at the date of each Census. The boundary of the Borough of Belfast, defined in the Municipal Corporations (I.) Act, 1840, was extended by the Belfast Borough Extension Act, 1853, and by the Belfast Corporation Act, 1896. By virtue of the Local Government (Ireland) Act, 1898, the Borough became a County Borough.

3. It will be noted that the last two intercensal periods cover fifteen years and eleven years respectively.
