P R E F A C E .

This volume has been prepared in accordance with the provisions of Section 6 (1) of the Census Act (Northern Ireland), 1936, from the census returns made as at midnight of the 28th February—1st March, 1937. The statistics contained herein supersede those contained in the Preliminary Report published in July, 1937, and may be regarded as final.

The census which was taken in 1937 was a special one in the sense that it was limited in scope and was taken during the interval between normal census years, thus bridging the gap between the 1926 census and the next full census. Certain questions usually found on census schedules, such as those regarding occupation and industry, were not asked, but a question as to usual residence was included for the first time.

The 1937 census publications will consist of :—

1. SEVEN COUNTY VOLUMES, each similar in design and scope. The smallest area for which statistics are given in the county volumes is the district electoral division, but statistics in respect of townlands, similar to those given in table 4, have been prepared in the Census Office and are available for reference upon application to the Registrar General.
2. GENERAL REPORT for the whole country, covering in more detail the statistics shown in the county volumes, and, in addition, containing tables on fertility.
3. SUPPLEMENT TO 1926 TOPOGRAPHICAL INDEX. This supplement will be designed for use in conjunction with the 1926 topographical index in order to facilitate reference to the statistics given in the 1937 census reports. It will cover the topographical changes during the intercensal period.

The net prices for the 1937 census publications will be 2s. 6d. for each county volume, 5s. 0d. for the general report, and 1s. 0d. for the topographical index supplement.

The volumes for Belfast County Borough, and Counties Antrim, Armagh, and Down have already been published. The volumes for Counties Londonderry and Tyrone will be published shortly, and the other two volumes as soon as possible thereafter. These publications will be obtainable directly from the Superintendent, H.M. Stationery Office, 80 Chichester Street, Belfast, or through any bookseller.

The 1926 census publications are similar in arrangement to the 1937 series (see advertisement on back of cover), but they incorporate additional tables on occupations, industries, education, orphanhood, dependent children, infirmities, and nationality. In addition the 1926 county volumes contain population and housing figures for each townland.

The Registrar General is empowered by Section 6 (2) of the Census Act (Northern Ireland), 1936, to prepare and supply from the census returns statistics other than those published in the census reports at the request and cost of any local authority or person. Any special demands for statistics more detailed than those published (either as regards subject matter or area) can thus, as far as office records permit, be satisfied. Requests for special compilation of census statistics should be addressed to the Registrar General, who will be pleased to advise and furnish an estimate of cost.

EXPLANATORY NOTES AND DEFINITIONS OF TERMS USED IN THIS VOLUME.

AREA.

The acreages given are as measured by the Ordnance Survey of 1899-1907 (foreshore being excluded), and relate to the several administrative areas as constituted at the date of the 1937 census. The acreage of the larger rivers and lakes, and land on the shores of Loughs Erne, Castlehulme, and Macnean, is not included in the body of tables 4, 6, and 7, but is given in footnotes thereto.

POPULATION.

The population comprises all persons, including Forces of the Crown, enumerated as at midnight of Sunday, 28th February—1st March, 1937.

The population assigned to each area comprises all persons who were actually present within it, whether as residents or visitors.

In general these definitions apply to the population figures for previous census enumerations which have been included in some of the tables.

ADMINISTRATIVE DIVISIONS.

The County is divided into four county districts (one urban and three rural), comprising 79 district electoral divisions, three of which are coterminus with the wards of the urban district (see table 4). The district electoral division forms the unit for the purpose of poor law elections.

Three poor law unions are contained within the County—two wholly and one partly; the remaining portion of the divided union being situated in County Tyrone. The medical dispensary districts situated in the County number sixteen (see table 6). Poor law unions and medical dispensary districts are, respectively, superintendent registrars' and registrars' districts for the registration of marriages, births and deaths.

There are three parliamentary constituencies for elections to the Northern Ireland Parliament. For the purpose of elections to the United Kingdom Parliament, the counties of Fermanagh and Tyrone together form a single constituency. (see table 12).

The County is divided into twenty county electoral divisions, which are the units for the purpose of County Council elections (see table 7).

The County forms a single regional education area under the authority of the County Council.

The only change made in the boundaries of administrative divisions of the County during the last intercensal period was that due to the creation by the House of Commons (Method of Voting and Redistribution of Seats) Act (Northern Ireland), 1929, of three parliamentary constituencies for the purpose of elections to the Parliament of Northern Ireland.

HOUSES.

1. The term "House" denotes
 - (a) each structure containing dwelling accommodation (except institutions) which stands alone or is separated from another by a vertical parting wall;
 - (b) each institution (viz., hospital, sanatorium, nursing home, infirmary, workhouse, asylum, religious or charitable community, residential school, barracks, or other premises under Naval, Military, Air Force, or Police discipline, prison or other place of detention), regardless of the number of buildings within its precincts;

(c) each vessel, caravan, tent, or other movable dwelling.

2. The term "Private House" denotes any "House" other than an institution, hotel, boarding house, premises occupied by a caretaker, vessel, movable dwelling, or barn, stable, or out-house occupied on census night. The term includes premises comprising a shop and dwelling, unless occupied by a caretaker.

3. The terms "Boarding House" and "Lodging House" cover any habitation described as such, and any private house containing three or more boarders or lodgers.

4. The term "Inhabited" denotes actual residence of a person or persons on census night. "Uninhabited" houses, therefore, include those temporarily vacant through the absence of the usual occupiers as well as those without tenants. Enumerators were instructed to omit from their enumeration empty houses in such an advanced state of decay that there was little likelihood that they would again be made fit for habitation.

ROOMS.

1. The rooms enumerated are the usual living rooms, including bedrooms and kitchens, but excluding sculleries (i.e., rooms used only for washing, cleaning, or cooking), pantries, cloakrooms, landings, closets or bathrooms, or any warehouse, office or shop rooms.

2. For the purpose of classifying families by rooms occupied (table 10), shared-room occupations—i.e., those in which two or more families have rooms in common—have been rounded up to the next integral number of rooms. Thus, three families occupying $1\frac{1}{3}$, $2\frac{1}{3}$, and $2\frac{1}{3}$ rooms in a 6-roomed house would be shown as occupying 2, 3, and 3 rooms respectively. The extent of the rounding-up process may be ascertained in a general way by reference to table 9, in which the actual number of rooms is given. In cases of 1 room occupations, all persons living therein, whether related or not, have been enumerated as one census family.

FAMILIES.

The term "Family" denotes

- (a) The inhabitants of each institution (see 1 (b) of "Houses" definition), hotel, boarding-house, lodging-house, or vessel;
- (b) Each person or group of persons occupying separately the whole, or part of, any dwelling other than as described at (a).

"Private Family" means a family enumerated in a "Private House" (see 2 of "Houses" definition).

It should be specially noted that a family or private family for census purposes includes any group of persons, whether related or not, who live together in separate house or room accommodation.

RATEABLE VALUATION.

The figures shown are those for service of the year ended 31st March, 1937, and have been supplied by the Commissioner of Valuation. Rateable hereditaments include lands, buildings, tolls, railways, tramways, canals, fisheries, turbaries, mines, quarries, waterworks, telegraphs, telephones, and electricity, gas, and water mains.

Subject to the provisions of the Local Government (Rating and Finance) Act (Northern Ireland), 1929, agricultural land and agricultural buildings are completely derated and industrial hereditaments and freight-transport hereditaments are partially derated, the consequent deficiency in the yield of rates being made good by contributions from the Government.

The figures in tables 4, 6, and 7 are the totals of the valuations of the rateable hereditaments in the various areas before reduction on account of derating, but exclude in certain cases the valuations of electricity, gas, and water mains, telegraphs, telephones, fisheries, waterworks, and tramways. The total of such excluded valuations for the County is given in a footnote to the tables.

The total for the County of rateable valuations after reduction on account of derating is given on page x.

USUAL RESIDENCE.

The persons who have been regarded as having their usual residence in the area of enumeration (i.e., urban district or rural district) include :—

- (1) Those enumerated in their own houses.
- (2) Persons having settled residence in private lodgings.
- (3) Resident domestic servants.
- (4) Scholars, students, etc., living during term time in residential schools, etc.
- (5) Inmates of institutions when the nature of the institution suggested permanent residence.
- (6) Crews of vessels if usually living on shipboard.
- (7) Persons whose usual residence, although not in the building in which enumerated, is still within the area of enumeration.

All other persons have been treated as usually resident in urban or rural areas other than the area of enumeration, or in countries outside Northern Ireland, as stated on the census schedule.

BIRTHPLACES.

The very small number of persons whose birthplaces were not stated on the census schedule were assumed to have been born in the county in which enumerated, except in cases of persons with foreign names, and persons stated to be visitors to the household. After further enquiry in these cases it was found possible to classify them under definite headings.

RELIGIONS.

The classification of religions includes a separate heading for each religion, the adherents of which number 10 or more (see table 20). The heading "Presbyterian" includes those who call themselves by this name without qualification, together with those who describe themselves as members of the Church of Scotland. Other Presbyterian denominations are shown at the foot of table 20. Members of the Church of England and the Episcopal Church of Scotland have been included under the heading "Church of Ireland." The later group includes all persons returned as "Church" or "Episcopalian."

NUMBERING OF TABLES.

Roman numerals are used in this volume for the tables in Part I and Arabic numerals for the tables in Part II.

CONVENTION AS TO DOTS (.) AND DASHES (—).

Throughout this volume dots (.) are used in tabular matter to indicate "none," and dashes (—) are used to indicate that information cannot or is not intended to be given.

CORRECTION OF CENSUS DATA.

Every effort has been made to eliminate, as far as practicable, errors and inaccuracies from the census data. The process of correction began with the enumerators, who received full instructions as to the action to be taken in cases of error or omission, and it was continued by a system of check and further enquiry where necessary applied at each stage of the office work. The process was completed by an intensive scrutiny and inter-comparison of the tabulation sheets. This scrutiny and comparison revealed a certain number of incongruities, which, when material, were investigated and corrected in the light of the facts disclosed. In a few cases trifling errors were adjusted arbitrarily.

PART I.

STATISTICAL NOTES.

NOTES.—(1) The definitions, etc., contained in the preceding section apply equally to these notes and to the tables in Part II.

(2) The descriptions of areas used in this volume relate to the conditions which existed at the census date. In particular, the term Irish Free State has been employed in the tables, since the name Eire did not come into operation for that area until the 29th December, 1937.

AREA.

The area of Fermanagh County, exclusive of the larger rivers and lakes, and of land on the shores of Loughs Erne, Castlehulme, and Macnean, is 653 square miles or 12.5 per cent. of the area of Northern Ireland.

POPULATION.

The total population enumerated in the County was 54,569, and has decreased by 3,415 or 5.9 per cent. since 1926. A decrease has been recorded at each census enumeration since 1841, when the population numbered 156,852 persons. (Figures for census years 1821 onwards are shown in table 2).

*Including the deaths of non-civilians of the County of Fermanagh which occurred outside Northern Ireland.

Comparable figures of natural increase due to the excess of births over deaths are not available for periods prior to 1871, but it is evident that in each of the intercensal periods from 1841 to 1871, as well as from 1871 to 1937, there was a net outward movement of such dimensions as not only to counterbalance the natural increase, but to cause a marked decrease in population. Since the beginning of the present century the net outward movement has been of smaller dimensions than formerly.

*The figures given relate to each area as constituted at the date of the 1937 Census.

Urban and Rural Districts.—From table II it will be seen that each of the four county districts shows a decrease in population during the past eleven years, although in the case of the one urban district the decrease is negligible. The decrease in population in the rural districts is a continuation of the trend since 1901. The 1937 urban population constitutes 8.9 per cent. of the whole as compared with 8.4 per cent. in 1926, 7.8 per cent. in 1911, and 8.3 per cent. in 1901.

Table 2 shows that the number of females per 1,000 males has gradually fallen from 1,059 in 1821 to 891 in 1937, the preponderance of males first being recorded in 1891.

Table 3 shows the extent to which the urban district and each rural district in the County has lost by migration during the intercensal period. In the urban district the loss was greater among males, and in the rural districts among females. In the County as a whole the loss of females by migration was the greater.

Table 4 provides more detailed information regarding the urban and each rural district, and their constituent district electoral divisions, including figures of rateable valuation. The rateable valuation of the County in 1937 was £274,239 before reduction on account of derating, and £72,415 after reduction on account of derating. These figures compare with a rateable valuation of £243,898 in 1926, but it is to be noted that during the intercensal period not only was a derating scheme introduced, but a general revaluation took place.

Towns and Villages other than Urban Districts.—Table 5 deals with towns or villages which may be defined as clusters of 50 or more houses with no legally defined boundaries. There are 14 of these towns, and of these two have a population of between 500 and 1,000 each. The total population of the 14 towns is 4,623. There are no towns created under the Towns Improvement (Ireland) Act, 1854, in County Fermanagh.

Unions and Dispensary Districts.—Detailed figures for these areas are given in table 6.

County Electoral Divisions.—Detailed figures for these, together with the reference numbers of the district electoral divisions comprised in each, are given in table 7.

Parliamentary Constituencies.—A complete record of the parliamentary constituencies of the County for elections to both the United Kingdom and Northern Ireland Parliaments is set out in table 12. The number of electors as shown therein is in accordance with the register which came into force on the 15th December, 1937. This register was compiled on the basis of the qualifying period of six months ending on 15th July, 1937, and therefore approximates in point of time to the census date.

In general a person is entitled to be registered as a Northern Ireland parliamentary elector if he or she is twenty-one or more years of age, and

- (a) has the requisite residence qualification of six months and (unless a native of Northern Ireland) has been resident in the United Kingdom for seven years prior to the qualifying date ; or
- (b) has occupied for six months prior to the qualifying date business premises of at least £10 valuation ; or
- (c) is the wife or husband of a person entitled to be registered in respect of a business premises qualification.

Graduates of full age form the electorate of the constituency of Queen's University, Belfast.

The qualifications for voters at elections for the return of members to serve in the parliament at Westminster are identical with those set out above, except that the overriding provision as to residence in the United Kingdom does not apply.

In considering the number of electors as shown on the register it should be noted that a person's name may appear on the register once only on a residence qualification, but any number of times on a business premises qualification, provided the residence and business premises are all situated in different constituencies. Thus a person having a business premises vote in each of two constituencies for Northern Ireland elections would only have one business premises vote for United Kingdom elections if both business premises were situated in the same United Kingdom constituency.

TABLE IV.*

Parliamentary Constituencies for United Kingdom Elections	Population aged 21 and over (Persons)	Parliamentary Electors with Residence Qualifications only (1937 Register) (Persons)	Electors with Residence Qualifications per cent. of Population aged 21 and over (Persons)
FERMANAGH AND TYRONE PARLIAMENTARY COUNTY (part of)	34,609	33,388	96.5

Table IV shows the number of electors for the United Kingdom Parliament having residence qualifications only as a proportion of the total population aged twenty-one years and over as enumerated at the census.

Education Area.—The Fermanagh County Council is the education authority for the entire County, which forms a single regional education area, and all figures given in this volume for the County therefore apply equally to the Fermanagh Regional Education Area.

*Table III (Population in Dispensary Districts) is given for Belfast and Londonderry County Boroughs only.

HOUSING—BUILDINGS, ROOMS, FAMILIES, Etc.

Houses.—The houses dealt with in tables V and VI comprise all buildings, including institutions, etc., which are normally used for dwelling purposes, and, since nearly 99 per cent. of these are houses containing private dwellings, the comparisons afforded by the tables can be regarded as being broadly applicable to housing of private census families.

1937	54,352	13,683	12,855	776	52	4.23	13,090	4.15

The intercensal decrease of 317 houses is equivalent to a decrease of less than $2\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. as compared with a decrease in population during the eleven years of almost 6 per cent.

The number of uninhabited houses has decreased materially since 1926, and is equivalent to 5.7 per cent. of all completed houses, the lowest ratio recorded since 1881.

Persons per Inhabited House and Persons per Census Family.—As might have been expected, the average number of persons per house, which has been steadily declining from 1851, shows a further decrease from 1926 to 1937. The size of the census family also shows a further decline, and is now a little over four persons per family. As compared with a decrease of almost 6 per cent. in the population since 1926, the number of census families has decreased by less than 1 per cent.

Ratios for persons per house, persons per family, and persons per room in relation to inhabited private houses only, can readily be calculated for each county district from tables 8 and 10. A comparison of these ratios for 1926 and 1937 in respect of the County is as follows :—

	1926	1937
Persons per Inhabited Private House ..	4.42	4.18
Persons per Private Family ..	4.33	4.10
Persons per Room in Private Houses ..	1.00	0.94

Housing in Urban and Rural Districts.—Tables 4, 8, 9, and 10 contain the detailed 1937 housing and accommodation figures for the urban district and each rural district, and table VI shows the changes in the numbers of houses in each district during the past eleven years.

There have been increases in the total number of houses in Enniskillen Urban and Rural Districts, and decreases in the Rural Districts of Irvinestown and Lisnaskea, the last named district recording the greater decrease.

Table VII has been prepared from tables 9 and 10, and shows broadly the distribution by size of private houses and the degree of subletting in the County. It also shows the distribution of private families according to the number of rooms occupied by them. Similar particulars in regard to each county district can readily be obtained from tables 9 and 10 in this volume and corresponding tables in the Fermanagh County Report for the 1926 census.

For the County as a whole increases are recorded in the proportion of 4 and 5 roomed houses and in the proportion of families in dwelling accommodation containing the same number of rooms. These increases are shared by all the county districts.

The number of inhabited 1 to 3 roomed houses in all districts shows a marked decrease as compared with the number in 1926.

The proportion of private houses sublet in 1937 was 1.3 per cent. as compared with 1.5 per cent. in 1926.

Overcrowding.—In order to determine the measure of accommodation essential if overcrowding is to be avoided, a knowledge of many factors such as size of family, number, ages, and sex of children, and number and size of rooms is necessary. Moreover, it is a matter of individual judgment as to what weight should be given to each factor. In dealing with the accommodation particulars recorded at the census, the size of the census family has been expressed by the number of persons, without regard to sex or age, and the rooms comprising the accommodation have been limited to the usual living rooms. The resulting rates of persons per room have been regarded as an approximate measure of density of room accommodation, and a rate of over 2 persons per room has been assumed to indicate overcrowding.

Tables VIII and IX have been prepared from table 10. The first of these tables shows a marked general improvement in accommodation in the County as a whole, and table IX shows that all county districts share in this improvement. The actual amount of overcrowding in the various districts is shown by the population numbers and the relative degree of overcrowding is indicated by the density rates in the category of "over 2 persons per room."

Housing in Dispensary Districts.—Table 6 contains detailed housing and accommodation figures for dispensary districts, which show decreases in the number of houses in 14 out of the 16 districts. The greatest absolute and relative decreases are among the districts in Lisnaskea Union.

INSTITUTIONS, Etc.

The population in each of the types of inhabited buildings, etc., other than private houses, is shown for the urban district and each rural district in table 11, together with the numbers of inmates of institutions. Table XI gives for the County these particulars in comparison with the corresponding 1926 figures.

There is a small decrease in the total number of hotels and boarding houses in the County and in their population. The inmates of Poor Law Institutions also number less than in 1926.

USUAL RESIDENCE.

The new enquiry at this census as to the "usual residence" of each individual irrespective of the address at which he or she was enumerated has disclosed that only 1.2 per cent. of the enumerated population of Fermanagh County was normally resident elsewhere than in the urban or rural district of enumeration, and over one-third of these resided outside Northern Ireland. Detailed figures are contained in table 13. This table shows the effect of an adjustment of the enumerated population for usual residence as between the urban or rural district of enumeration and other such areas in Northern Ireland. While this adjustment is comparatively insignificant, it may be noted that it would probably have been larger if the census had been taken some months later. Moreover, the 1937 population figures adjusted for usual residence as at the end of February will provide better comparisons with population figures similarly adjusted at a future census (which may be taken at some other time of the year) than simple comparisons of populations as enumerated. In the absence of particulars of persons not enumerated in Northern Ireland, but usually resident in the County, it is not possible to make a similar adjustment for usual residence as between areas in the County and places outside Northern Ireland. If, however, a census enumeration were carried out on the same date throughout the British Isles it could be made to provide most of the particulars required to give effect to such an adjustment.

SEX, AGE, AND MARITAL CONDITION.

Table 14 shows the population of the County by single ages and quinquennial age groups for each sex and marital condition, and for convenience of reference corresponding 1926 figures, limited to certain age groups, are shown in table XII.

*Table X (Housing in Dispensary Districts) is given for Belfast and Londonderry County Boroughs only.

*No persons were returned as divorced.

If tables XIII and XIV, which have been prepared from tables XII and 14, are examined together, it will be seen that the decrease in the number of single persons is largely accounted for by the reduction in the number of children under fifteen years of age, and in part by the relatively low rate of decrease in the number of married persons. The decrease in the number of widowed and divorced persons is roughly proportionate to the decrease in the total population.

The tendency for the proportion of the population at the older ages to increase and the proportion at the young ages to decrease, which was checked during the previous intercensal period, has been resumed, and the average age of the population, which fell from 32.5 years in 1911 to 32.0 years in 1926, has now risen to 34.6 years. The tendency just referred to is illustrated in the following graph, which shows the trend of the population of the County as constituted at the date of each census since 1841, and the trend of the population in five age groups since 1871.

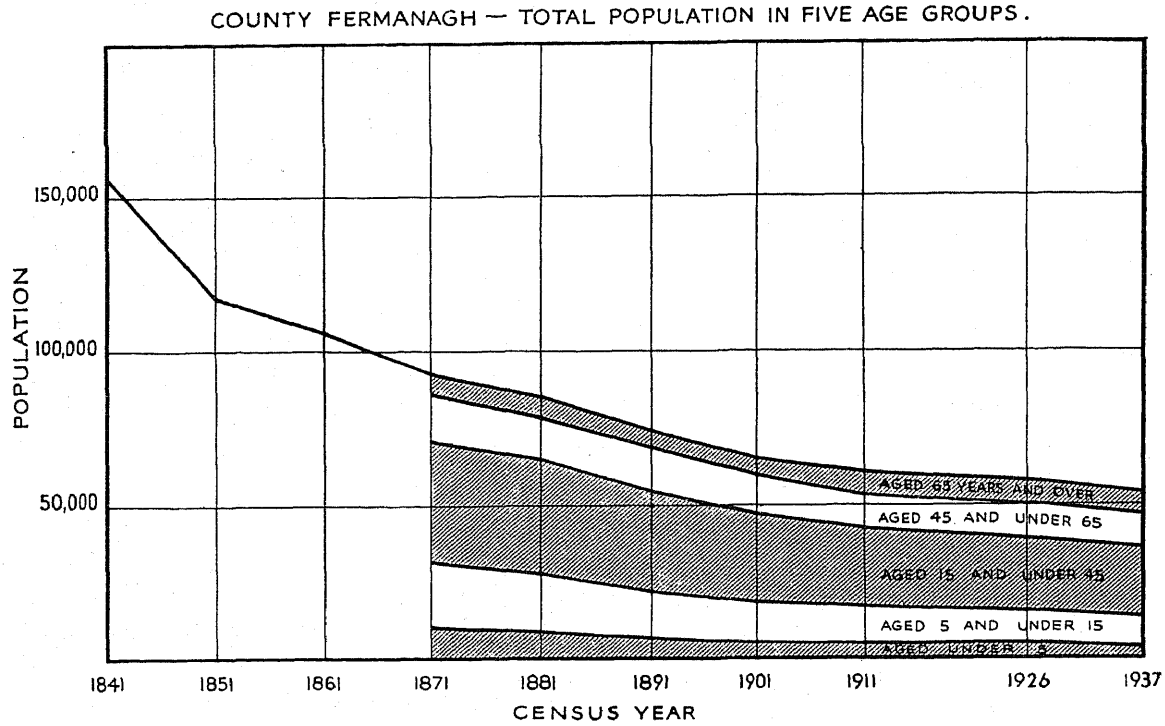

Table 16 shows the population of the urban district and each rural district by sex, marital condition, and quinquennial groups of age. This table has been prepared on lines similar to those adopted in England and Wales, and will facilitate the study of questions of fertility. It will be seen that only in the urban district does the number of females exceed the number of males. The excess of males in the rural districts is mainly confined to single males. The population of the urban district and the aggregate of rural districts by sex, marital condition, and quinquennial groups of age will be found in table 15.

Table 17 shows for the County as a whole, and also for the urban district and each rural district, the population under age twenty-one by sex and individual ages. The numbers are also divided between Roman Catholic and other denominations. A similar division by religions takes place among children at the school ages, during which there is almost complete separation between the two groups. This separation is one of a number of social differences between Roman Catholics and others, and these differences have a considerable statistical significance. For this reason, therefore, in this and certain of the following tables separate figures for Roman Catholics and others have been shown.

Table XV has been prepared from table 17 and shows that at ages under 20 the proportion of Roman Catholics is a little greater than at ages 20 and over. In some counties the difference was more marked, and, as this suggested the possibility of a higher fertility rate among Roman Catholics, table XVI was prepared. The results disclosed by this table, so far as County Fermanagh is concerned, provide no conclusive evidence on this question, but, if the rural districts only are considered, it will be seen that the proportion of young children to married women increases as the proportion of Roman Catholic population increases.

Lisnaskea Rural District has both the largest number and the highest percentage of Roman Catholic children.

BIRTHPLACES.

Table 18 shows, by sex, the numbers of persons born in each of the counties of Northern Ireland, other countries in the British Isles, overseas dominions, colonies, etc., foreign countries, and at sea. Of the total population of Fermanagh County, 81½ per cent. were born in the County, 3 per cent. in the adjacent County of Tyrone, 3 per cent. in the remaining parts of Northern Ireland, and 10 per cent. in the Irish Free State. Only one-half per cent. were born outside the British Isles, and over one-third of these were born in British Dominions and Colonies. Persons born in foreign countries numbered 177, and 3 persons were born at sea.

(a) Persons born in the Isle of Man and the Channel Islands have been included under this heading. In 1937 they numbered 4 persons born in the Isle of Man and 1 in the Channel Islands.

From table XVIII it will be seen that since 1861 there have been no marked variations in the proportions of the population born in the several parts of the British Isles and abroad. Up to 1926 the general tendency was for the proportions born in Northern Ireland to fall and the proportions born in other parts of the British Isles and abroad to rise. This tendency was, however, checked in the last intercensal period when there was an increase in the proportion born in Northern Ireland and a reduction in the proportions born in the remainder of the British Isles.

Table 19 deals with the numbers of persons in each urban and rural district born outside Northern Ireland and shows them under Roman Catholic and other denominations by sex and duration of residence in Northern Ireland. The irregularities in the run of the figures as between males and females in some cases are no doubt due to circumstances peculiar to particular districts. Districts with a high proportion of domestic servants, and those which include schools, for example, might be expected to show some exceptional features. The excess of females over males born outside Northern Ireland is mainly among Roman Catholics.

Table XIX has been prepared from table 19 and shows under Roman Catholic and other denominations the numbers of persons who have come from other countries to reside in the County, and were still there on census day. It will be seen that the ratio of such persons to the total population of the same denomination for all periods of residence does not differ widely as between Roman Catholics and persons of other denominations, although, for the shorter durations of residence, the proportions of persons of other denominations are generally the greater. The differences in the ratios, therefore, do not suggest that in recent years there has been any disproportionate influx of persons, either of Roman Catholic or other denominations, from other countries into the County, unless any such influx has been offset by a corresponding movement outwards from the County.

RELIGIONS.

Table 20 shows the population by sex and religion in four main groups for the urban district and each rural district, and by sex and under thirteen different descriptions for the County as a whole. The highest proportion of Roman Catholics occurs in Lisnaskea Rural District.

*Including Church of England, numbering 214 in 1937.

From table XX it will be seen that decreased numbers and percentages have been recorded for Roman Catholics and Church of Ireland, and that the number of Methodists also shows a decrease, although their proportion is a little higher than in 1926. Presbyterians and persons of other denominations show increases both in numbers and proportions. From 1861 onwards there has been a fairly steady decrease in the proportion of Church of Ireland, but proportions for Roman Catholics, Presbyterians, and Methodists have only fluctuated between narrow limits. During this period the proportion of persons of other denominations has shown a substantial increase.
